1. Find the positive number such that the sum of the number and the square of its reciprocal is as small as possible.

2. Sketch as accurately as you can the graph of the function $f(x) = \dfrac{(x+1)^2}{x}$. Label all asymptotes, local extremes, and axis intercepts.